VOL. CVXIIII.— 2. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1913. PRICE, 2 CENTS

WRIT OF ERROR IS ADMITTED

Supersedeas Writ to Admit Prisoners to Bail Is Withdrawn.

STAY OF EXECUTION.

Final Efforts of Defense Attorneys are Made to Release Convicted Men on Security.

Indianapolis, Ind, Jan. 2.—A writ of error from the defense attorneys in the dynamite conspiracy cases was admitted by Judge Albert Anderson in Federal Court today. The supersedeas writ which would have admitted the 33 Leavenworth prisoners to bail was withdrawn.

The case now goes before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago which on Tuesday refused to grant a stay of execution of sentence.

Defense attorneys in the dynamite conspiracy case today began a final effort to release the Leavenworth prisoners on bond pending an appeal.

The defense lawyers expected to be denied their motions but declined to say what steps would follow. When the writs were submitted on Tuesday Judge Anderson accused the attorneys of playing "cheap tactics." He stated that the sentenced men were guilty and that their lawyers were hardly acting as officers of the court in trying to effect the release of the conspirators.

THIRTEEN IS NO HOODOO.

So Says President-Elect Who Finds That it Brings Good Luck.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 2.—"Another lucky years has started—the year 1913"—was the observation made yesterday by President-elect Woodrow Wilson, whose life so far has proved a continuos refutation of the old superstition regarding the ill-fortune of 13. President-elect Wilson's 13 has proved a signal of good luck and in discussing this question today he said: "How the number '13' has figured in my life—always in connection with some good fortune. You know the electoral college, which is to cast its vote officially electing me to the presidency, is to meet January 13, 1913. Perhaps you have noticed that if the numerals making up the year 1912, in which I was elected president, were added up, the total is 13. It is also a fact that mine is the thirty-first terms, and if these numbers are placed backward the result is 13."

The President-elect watched the old year out and the new one in, retiring 13 minutes after 12 o'clock.

Further in connection with the reverred superstition of 13, Mr. Wilson was a professor at Princeton University thirteen years and was the thirteenth president of that institution. Mr. Wilson frequently points out that there are thirteen letters in the name Woodrow Wilson, for he never uses his Christian name, Thomas. Upon his recent trip from Bermuda he left his cottage there on Friday, December 13th.

The first person to wish the President-elect a Happy New Year was Richard Taylor, the secret service agent, who is Mr. Wilson's bodyguard.

Train Derailed.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 2.—A big mogul engine and three cars attached to the New York and Ne wOrleans north bound express on the Louisville and Nashville railroad were derailed by a broken rail two miles south of Garland, Ala., today. Engineer Wilson, a negro fireman and an express messenger were injured, but not seriously. None of the passenger coaches left the track.

Death of Mrs. Nichols.

New York, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Indiana Jay Nichols, for many years a resident of Washington, where she was employed in the Department of Agriculture, died today at the residence of her son, Spencer B. Nichols, at Bronxville, Westchester county.

She was 68 years old and had been in failing health for months. The interment will be in Glenwood cemetery, Washington.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

New Year's day brought death to four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kahler, of Croghan, N. Y., Ray, Roy, Francis, and Daniel, ranging in age from 7 to 16 years, were coasting near their home. They went down a hill and on to thin ice along the edge of Beaver river. The ice broke and all four went into the stream and were drowned. Near Boardmanville, Milo Williams, 14 years old; Homer Williams, 12, and Raymond J. Fath, aged 11, were drowned in Olean Creek, while playing hockey. Young Fath broke the thin ice. While trying to rescue him the Williams boys and Charles Fitch, a companion, also broke through. Fitch was the only one of the four who was able to reach shore.

General Robert Murray, 91 years old, surgeon general of the United States army from 1882 to 1886, when he was retired, died of pneumonia in Baltimore last night. He entered the army as a surgeon in 1845.

Buildings were shaken, windows rattled, and walls cracked by an earthquake at Union, S. C., at 1:26 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The county jail was severely damaged. People rushed excitedly into the streets fearing occurrence of the castrophere of 1886. Anderson, N. C., also felt the shock distinctly. No casualties have been reported. A distinct earthquake shock was felt in Columbia and several cities of South Carolina at 1.30 p. m., yesterday. No serious damage has been reported.

Frank Dare, of New Lisbon, Ind., foreman of the jury in the Federal court at Indianopolis that convicted the 38 defendants in the dynamite conspiracy trial, has received an anonymous communication threatening his life. The letter was not signed and was sent from Chicago. It read as follows: "Frank Dare, New Lisbon, Ind. "Sir: This is to inform you that you will be placed under the sod within the next three months."

Governor Woodrow Wilson intimated last night that if it were possible he would like to go afoot between the White House and Capitol when he takes the oath of office as President of the United States on March 4. He realizes, however, that the crowds would make it impossible, and that he probably will have to ride in a parade, as have all recent Presidents.

Six men were killed and two others are missing, while fifteen were injured yesterday when a freight train on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad went through a bridge over the Guyandotte river, three miles from Huntington, W. Va. Thirty structural ironworkers were on the bridge at the time making repairs when it collapsed. Many of them were thrown into the river. Some swan ashore, but others were drowend. The locomotive and eight freight cars went into the river when the floor system collapsed. The fireman of the train became apprehensive of the bridge and refused to ride across.

With marks on the nose and throat indicating that she may have been murdered, the body of Miss Mildred Donovan, of Revere, Mass., was found in the woods near Holy Cross cemetery, at Malden, yesterday afternoon. James J. Jennings, known as "Kid" Carter, a middlweight prize fighter, who was arrested after having shot William H. McPherson during a fight in a south end Boston saloon, admits that he had an engagement to take Miss Donovan to a moving picture show Tuesday night. Before he shot McPherson he cried several times in the saloon: "Take them away; keep them from me. The detectives are after me." After his arrest he declared that four years ago he killed a man named Hill, in Everett, and shortly before that a man named John Ryan, in Michigan.

Two men were burned to death in a fire which destroyed Wilcox's Hotel at Keystone, W. Va., last night. Other guests in the hotel narrowly escaped being burned. They were forced to flee from the building in their night clothes. The men who lost their lives have not yet been identified, their bodies being burned to a crisp. The fire also destroyed the jewelry store of C. J. Kinzer. The total loss is estimated at $20,000, partially insured.

Rolling Mills Burn.

Winnepeg, Man., Jan. 2.—The Manitoba Rolling Mills, Iron and Steel Plant in St. Boniface, across the Red river, from Winnipeg, was destroyed by fire. The loss is about $200,000.

WILL REFUSE TERMS.

Allies Will Not Agree to Maintenance Status Quo in "Holy City" of Adrianople.

London, Jan. 2.—A special dispatch form Athens today said that a detachment of Turks attacked the Greeks at Bezane near Janina and was repulsed. The Turks lost 172 killed and wounded, it was said.

London, Jan. 2.—The Balkan allies are almost certain to refuse Turkey's proposal that the status of the Holy City of Adrianople be settled between Turkey and Bulgaria alone, it was believed among diplomats today.

The optimists had decidedly the better of the argument today. They were certain that the fact that the Ottoman envoys came down to earth and submitted counter-proposals that the allies could discuss, even though they rejected them indicated that the Porte really intended to make peace, and that instructions now on their way from Constantinople would authorize the Turkish plenipotentiaries to make further concessions to insure an early agreement.

The ambassadorial conversations, adjourned for the Christmas holidays were resumed this afternoon at the foreign office.

Case Compromised.

(Special Dispatch to the Gazete.)

Richmond, Jan. 2.—It is officially announced that Virginia has compromised the long contested franchise tax cases against the R. F. and P. R. R., by accepting a total of $338,969.21 in lieu of all money claimed to be due. The sum mentioned will for the most part go into the treasury of the state. Counties along the line of the road will get some of it.

FAIL TO SOLVE MYSTERY.

German Consuls and Newspapers Asked to Aid Investigation.

Petersburg, Va., Jan.2.—The jury of inquest yesterday afternoon failed to find any evidence to establish the identity of the stranger who was killed Sunday night in Chesterfield county, supposedly by a train on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, nor was it established by what train he was killed, if death came in that way.

The verdict was that the "stranger came to his death by some cause, or causes, unknown to the jury, he having apparently been run over and dragged by some car or train of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

Believing the descedent to have been a German, the German consuls and newspapers in this country have been notified to make inquiry.

EXCEPTIONS OVERRULED.

Two Banks to Receive Dividends From Trust Company.

In the Corporation Court this morning Judge Louis C. Barley entered an order overruling the exceptions of the receivers of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Company to the report of Special Commissioner John M. Johnson, in his report which was made over a year ago, held that the trust company was liable for certain notes rediscounted by the Second National Bank of Culpeper and the District National Bank of Washington.

In the decree overruling the exceptions Judge Barley ordered Howard W. Smith, receiver of the trust company, to pay to the two banks the same percentage of dividends on their claims as paid to the other creditors of the bank, namely 30 per cent together with interest.

The two banks were represented by John S. Barbour and John G. Hiden and the receiver of the trust company by Samuel G. Brent.

Bowman, N. H., Jan. 2.—Two men were burned to death and another seriously injured in a fire that destroyed the Sterling Hotel and two stores early today.

IMPORTANTDECISION

State May Not Tax Public Utilities' Such as Gas and Light Plants and Water Works

Richmond, Va., Jan. 2.—That the state may not tax municipal utilities, such as gas and light plants and water works, was the decision today of Judge Southall in the Hustings Court. The ruling was based on the state constitutional exemption of all properties wholly and exclusively used by cities and towns. The state will appeal.

This decision is of special importance to Alexandria this city having recently taken issue with the state for listing its light plant and City Hall building for taxation.

Three Men Perish.

Bluefield, W. Va., Jan. 2.—Fire believed to have been started by New Year's revelers, caused the death of three men on the top floor of hte Hotel Wilcox, at Keystone near here.

The hotel register was burned and the identity of the men is unknown.

Harmon and Perry are believed to be the names of two and their homes are said to be in Tazewell county, Va. Two bodies were recovered.

Dinning Wins.

Edinburgh, Jan. 2.—The annual 15-mile marathon at Powder Hall today was won by Dinning of England. "Bill" Queal of New York was second and Kitchener of England, third.

Miners Strike.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 2.—Five hundred miners of the Four States Coal Company, at Dorothy Raleigh county, went on strike today, tieing up several mines, one of which has a contract to furnish 1,000 tons of coal a day to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

Hunting Deer in Autos.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Hunting deer in automobiles is likely to become a popular sport in this neck of the woods if the experience being related today by Aaron Kantrowitz, an ice cream dealer, is any indication. Kantrowitz was driving through John D. Rockefeller's estate's in Pocanticco Hills when a deer jumped into the road in front of his automobiles. Kantrowitz hit up the speed and the deer liped on down the road with the automobile in hot pursuit. The deer finally turned off and tried to get over a fence. Kantrowitz turned his machine and pushed the animal against the fence and then tried to find some instrument with which to bring down his game. While Kantriwitz looked for a club the deer made of fto the woods. Kantrowitz, his neighbors say, is a veracious man and a teetotaler.

NEW ELECTRIC RATES.

Alexandria County Lighting Company Reduces Cost of Electricity. For Residences.

Commencing today the Alexandria County Lighting Company will put into effect a new flat rate system of charging for electric lighting for special convenience of the public of Alexandria. Under this new form of contract the monthly cost for electric light will be much less than formerly a distinct saving to the people of this city.

The contract rate is one which fixes the prices you pay each month for current and gives the consumer the unlimited use of current up to the maximum number of lights contracted for enabling you to burn your lamps 24 hours without extra charge.

The new prices for residence lighting will be as follows:

Five 25 watt lamps per month $1.25.

Six 25 Watt lamps per month $1.50.

Seven 25 Watt lamps per month $1.75.

Eight 25 Watt lamps per month $2.00.

Persons who do not have electricity in their homes will have an opportunity to have their houses wired for electricity at special prices, under which plan, houses will be wired by the company at lower rates than have ever been charged in this city.

New York.—Mrs. Minnie T. Topping, wife of John T. Topping, chairman of the Board of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, died today in the Hotel Plaza. Her husband and their sons, William and Henry T. Topping, of Philadelphia were with her.

BRITISH CRUISER NATAL ON COAST

Funeral Ship With Body of Late Ambassador Reid is On Time.

ESCORT TO NEW YORK.

Expected to Reach Ambrose Channel Friday, and Steam up the Hudson River to Anchorage.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 2.—The local wireless station here was in touch with the British cruiser Natal today and it was stated that the warship, with the body of Ambassador Whitelaw Reid on board, is steaming slowly down the coast. Owing to the new law prohibiting the publication of wireless messages, only the information that the Natal is on time and preceding according to program was officially made public.

It was said that the commander of the "funeral ship" was also in touch with the American Squadron that will escort it into New York Harbor.

Early today it was said that the Natal would anchor in the Hudson river tonight, but later it was said that the original program would be adhered to and the cruiser with the escorting, squadron, will steam at half-speed reaching the Ambrose Channel Lightship at daylight Friday, immediately steaming up the river.

BARON HARDINGE WORSE.

Considerable Anxiety Concering Result of His Injuries.

Delhi, India, Jan. 2.—The condition of Baron Charles Hardinge, Viceroy of India, wounded by an assassin, took a turn for the worse today and considerable anxiety for him was felt by the attending physicians. A bulletin was issued by them stating that he would probably be in need of an operation which would have to be performed to remove steel grabments from his body.

Lord Hardinge was in great pain today when the fever which the physicians have succeeded in banishing returned.

When a native assassin from a house top, threw a hand made bomb at the Royal elephant on which Lord and Lady Hardinge were making their triumphant entry into Delhi for the Durbar which rehabilitate the ancient capital of India, Lord Hardinge was struck in the back by several of the jagged steel missiles with which the contrivance was loaded. The howdah in which they were riding was splintered, a fan bearer back of the viceregal pair was killed and a boy in the crowd was killed. The elephant driver was badly wounded.

Immediately the viceroy was operated upon and four bits of steel removed from his shoulders.

Turkey Capitulates.

After their protracted diplomatic skirmishing the Turks finally capitulated to a majority of the demands of the Balkan allies at yesterday's session of the peace conference in St. James' palace, London.

Through Rechad Pasha they agreed to cede practically the whole of the Ottoman empire's European dominions, except Adrianople and the territory between it and Constantinople, to their victorious but traditionally despised neighbors.

The terms of the Turkish delegates presented to the conference as a counter proposal to the demands of the allies, were:

First, The rectification of the Turko-Bulgarian frontier by making the boundary west of the line now occupied by the troops of the allies in the villayet of Adrianople.

Second, The question of the status of Adrianople to be settled by Turkey and Bulgaria direct.

Third, The cession of the remainder of European Turkey, incluing Janina and Scutari, to the allies.

Fourth, The Albanian and Cretan questions to be solved by the powers.

Fifth, The Aegean islands to remain Turkish.

The announcement of these terms was wrung from the Ottoman delegates with the greatest difficulty.

POLICE COURT

(L. H. Thompson, Presiding

There were two cases before the Police Court his morning.

A negro named Harry Shackelford had been arrested for larceny and as a fugitive from justice. He was charged some time ago with stealing a bed belonging to his mother and selling it to a secondhand dealer. Sergeant Scott and Officer Reid had taken him in charge, and while on the way to the station house he broke and ran away from the officers. Sergeant Scott discharged his pistol at the fugitive, but failed to strike him. When Shackelford was brought to the station house yesterday it was discovered that his clothing were alive with vermin and a wide berth was given him by the officers. Upon being placed in the dock this morning he plead guilty to the charge of larceny and was sent to jail for 30 days. He will receive proper attention before being removed to that institution.

A young white man, charged with disorderly conduct on Christmas Day, was fined $5, and another young man, charged with a similar offense, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

"Bushelmen" in Repair and Alteration Departments Walk Out.

MORE WILL FOLLOW.

Temporary Negotiations Under Way Toward Bringing About Agreement Between Those Concerned.

New York, Jan. 2.—More than 5,000 "bushel men" as the workers in the repair and alteration departments of the ready-to-wear clothing concerns are known, joined the garment workers' strike today. More are expected to walk out before night. At the headquarters of the Garment Workers' Union it was said that temporary peace negotiations were under way and that it was expected a working agreement between the strikers and the employers would be reached while the strikers demands are being arbitrated.

STRIKE OF CHAUFFEURS.

Over Four Thousand Vacate Their Places in London.

London, Jan. 2.—Over four thousand taxicab chauffeurs yesterday obeyed the strike order that was voted on the last stroke of old 1912 and Londoners were forced to resort to the ancient hansoms four-wheelers and busses or walk.

The trouble is over the price of petrol. Formerly fuel was 16 cents a gallon. The price suddenly was boosted to 26 cents to take effect today. The chauffeurs offered to pay 21 cents but the employers refused the compromise.

By the terms of the agreement between the employers and the men after the last big taxicab strike the drivers have bought their own petrol.

At a mass-meeting held while London was welcoming the New Year's the hotels, cafes, and theatres, 5,000 chauffeurs voted to strike while only 100 opposed the order.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The House adjourned after being in session ten minutes today, out of respect for the late Rep. McHenry, of Pennsylvania, who died during the Christmas recess. The adjournment was on a motion by Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, sang his "swan song" in the Senate today—a bitter denunciation of the initiative and referendum as "repugnant to the principles upon which the American republic was founded." The Texan senator, long famed as one of the greatest orators in public life, planned to make this the last set speech of his senatorial career. His formal rsciignation will probably shortly be submitted to Governor Colquitt. His term expires on March 4th.

Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, will be "technically" admitted to the United States under the most peculiar circumstances in the history of the Immigration Service. His trespass upon American soil will be under a time limit and may possibly not take more than an hour or so.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel said today that he would permit Castro to leave Ellis Island for New York Saturday, merely to permit the "Stormy Petrel" of South America to sail away. Castro has decided objections to deporting on a French steamship line and has requested permission to sail on a vessel calling at a German port.

The steamer Amerika of the German line will sail Saturday, January 4, and it is Castro's intention to book passage on this vessel. His entry to Ellis Island was by a French liner.

FRANK McLEAREN DIES

Well Known Resident Pays Debt of Nature at Alexandria Hospital

Frank McLearen, one of the best known residents of Alexandria, who had been in declining health for some time, died at the Alexandria Hospital at 7:40 o'clock last night. Bright's disease, from which he had been a sufferer for more than a year, was the cause of death.

The deceased was born in Warrenton and located in Alexandria about a quarter of a century ago. He gained fame here, in Washington, and in other places where he attended baseball games. He was an ardent rooter for the Washington team and became widely known as a fan of exceptional ability, owing to his propensity to root, together with his observations concerning the players and others.

He was so original and forceful in his remarks and his witticisms were so funny that the fans looked up on McLearen's rooting as one of the most interesting parts of their trips to the ball park. His humor gained for him such a reputation that a few years ago the management of the American League Park issued him a season pass.

He was deeply attached to the Washington team and nothing that the team did lessened his confidence in their playing ability. For years he followed them through seasons of defeat and last year when the team really began to play major league ball and went at the top of the first division McLearen was taken ill and was unable to attend the games. Although confined to his room the greater part of last season he kept up his interest in the game and friends read to him every scrap of news that was published in reference to the Washington team. He confidently expected to recover and witness the wining of the pennant by the Washington team next season.

McLearen was popular with all classes by his genial disposition.

He was about fifty-five years old, and is survived by his wife and two children. For many years he had conducted a poolroom at the corner of Duke and Henry streets.

He was a son of the late Charles McLearen.

Board of Managers Consider Ways and Means of Enlarging Institution

As announced in the Gazette several weeks ago, the board of managers of the Alexandria Hospital met to consider ways and means for securing sufficient funds for the erection of a new hospital building the present building in present use not being large enough to meet the constant and urgent demands made upon it for service.

It must be remembered that the city is growing, and, as is evident, in many directions, hence as there is need for enlarging the facilities for the transaction of business in many stores and institutions this is also true of the hospital. The management is greatly handicaped in its work by for dack of room.

During the holidays, hospital patients, or such as can leave for their homes, do so as most people owuld rather spend Chrstmas and New Year's in their own home. This Christmas, however, the hospital was filled with patients during the holidays, a clear reminder that a new building is greatly needed.

The management some time ago was compelled to establish a rule to limit the chronic cases to not over three weeks' stay. In a number of cases this rule compelled the sending of many chronic cases out of town for further treatment, so as to make room for emergency and acute cases.

Several persons, who do not wish their names mentioned at this time, have tentatively promised a liberal cash donation towards the creation of a building fund with which to erect a new hospital in Alexandria, and a suggestion was also made that some one donate a building site. Were a site secured, it would be easy to raise funds for the erection of a building. $50,000 is the estimated sum required for the new building.

DUFFEY TO RESIGN.

Louis N. Duffey, deputy clerk of Courts, will resign his position within a few days in order to take up the practice law. Mr. Duffy will also be connected with the Alexandria News succeeding M. T. Dwyer as local editor. Mr. Dwyer, who is one of the best known newspapermen in Alexandria, will retain his connection with a number of out-of-town papers which he represents.

TO INSTALL LARGE CLASS.

A large class will be initiated by Lone Star Camp No. 1, American Indian Guards, at its regular monthly meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Young People's building. This organization, which has recently been established in Alexandria is composed of boys between 12 and 18 years age. W. S. Nicklin, past grand sachem of the Independent Order of Red Men, is the founder of the organization.

Serious riots have taken place in the last two days at Pilson and Koenigsgratz, in Bohemia, on the occasion of the departure of military detachments from the towns. Angry crowds blocked the streets leading to the railway stations in an attempt to prevent the troops entraining and also pelted the army officers with stones. The rioters were dispersed only after the military had charged with fixed bayonets. Several persons on both sides were wounded.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

KILLS SLAYER.

n Who Serves Term in Penitentiary Is Shot by Negro.

Irvington, Va., Jan. 2.—Samuel Wright, a well-to-do-negro employed in an oyster packing house of Carter's Creek, has been landed in the Lancaster County jail on the charge of murdering Sill Ballard, who was recently discharged from the Virginia penitentiary.

Ballard had served a term in the penitentiary for killing a man some years ago in Westmoreland county. He became involved in a row Saturday night and he said he would kill another man before the year was out.

While Wright and his wife were standing in the front of their home Monday evening Ballard approached the house and made several threats. Wright warning Ballard not to approach any further. Ballard continued to advance, and put his hand behind him as if to draw a pistol.

Wright then drew his gun and fired two bullets into the former convicts breast. The victim died instantly.

. MASTIN FAVORS CITY FARMS

Thinks Jail Birds Should be Made to Work During Terms.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 2.—Believing that much good would redound from a system of employment, the Rev. Dr. J. T. Mastin, secretary of the state board of charities and corrections, will use his every influence to have "city farms" established where jail prisoners may be put to work. Dr. Mastin has just returned fro ma tour of inspection to a number of jails and is enthusiastic over results that have been accomplished in the experimental endeavors of farming with city jailbirds.

Among the jails visited by Dr. Mastin were those of the District of Columbia and Norfolk, Va. Both of these institutions conduct farms where the prisoners are made to work, and from reports made to the state official, both of the agricultural plants are doing a double good. The city saves money and the prisoners are better off as a result of the labor performed.

Excellent results have been obtained on the Norfolk jail farm, where the expense of keeping the prisoners has been reduced to a minimum.

As a reform method for the unfortunates the farm proposition has proved a great success is the opinion of Dr. Mastin. An example was cited by the official, who stated that he knew of a case where a ma nwas sent to jail nineteen times in two years on charges of drunkenness. There are many cases, declared Dr. Mastin, where drunks have been sent to the farm and a complete reformation was made.

Dr. Mastin would like to see Richmond and other cities in Virginia establish a "jail farm" where the prisoners could be worked. He thinks that such an institution would be self-sustaining within two years, and thus save a great deal of money for teh municipalities, and the condition of the prisoners would be improved both from a moral and physical standpoint.

Dr. Mastin has great faith in the farm plan as a means of reclaiming and reforming the drunkard, and of a number of instances where complete cure for the drink habit effected. In some cases the men will be allowed to remain on the farm and work even after they have served out the court sentence.

..DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT....

Bank Cashier Takes Overdose of Sedative Medicine.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 2.—That Arthur Lee, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of this city, who was found in his bed at his home in Grey street, Hampton, about 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning, came to his death "as the result of an overdose of sedative medicine, accidentally administered," is the statement contained in the death certificate issued by Dr. George K. Vanderslice, coroner of Elizabeth City County, who was notified immediately after finding the body.

Death came to Mr. Lee sometime Sunday morning and his body was found by Mrs. Boutelle, wife of Dr. T. Boutelle, with which family Mr. Lee lived.

Arthur Lee who was 43 years old, was a son of the late Judge Baker P. Lee, jurist, writer and soldier.

MURDERER'S CONFESSION.

Paul Bowman, Nansemond County Negro Admits Slaying Wife.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 2.—Paul Bowman, a negro arrested here on information furnished by his 9-year-old daughter, tha tabout a year ago her father had killed her mother, has made a full confession.

According to a story told the police by the girl, her father murdered her mother in their little cabin in Nansemond county one night last winter in a rage, the child said her father beat her mother to death, then carried the lifeless body some distance away, and threw it into a pond, telling the child that if she ever said anything about what occurred he would "cut her throat from ear to ear."

Bowman it is alleged, accounted for his wife's disappearance by saying she had gone away to preach."

The woman has a brother here who is a preacher. Bowman is now in jail here.

Murderers to be Brought Back.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 31.—When Scott Godsey, a negro, arrested for the attempted murder of Upton Wilson, at Crewe, is brought back to Virginia, it may be necessary to take unusual steps to prevent summary execution. Although the crime was committeed five months ago, public indignation in Nottoway county, especially at Crewe, is said to be so intense as to make it doubtful if the law will be allowed to take its course.

A Nottoway officer left yesterday for Trenton and Hackensack, N. J., for the prisoner, bearing a requisition issued by Governor Mann on Governor Woodrow Wilson for Godsey, who is in jail at Hackensack. It is probable that the local authorities may see to it that the negro is confined in Richmond or at some other point away from the scene of the trouble. A speedy trial, perhaps, with a military guard, may be arranged for.

Mr. Wilson, who was a commissary clerk, was shot on a train at Crewe. The bullet, it is stated, took effect in the spine, resulting in paralysis, from which he is still suffering. This fact keeps alive the resentment of the public. Quite a large element, it is stated, would prefer not to await a trial.

After the shooting Godsey fled, being only recently placed under arrest.

THIEF ESCAPES.

Washington Bank Messenger Walks off With $6,000.

Richmond, Jan. 2.—Webster Morton, colored, the defaulting messenger of the Washington and Southern bank, 1413 G street, Washington, D. C., who ran away with $6,000 belonging to the bank, was captured at the home of his grandmother in Jackson ward early yesterday morning, but escaped at a patrol box, after felling Detective Sergeant Wiley with a heavy blow on the back of the head.

Sergeants Wiley and Kellam had been detailed on the case directly after information came from Washington that Morton might come here. They watched the house of his grandparent through many long hours, and finally caught sight of Morton.

They arrested him with little parley, and confiscated a suit case he carried, in which they found $5,000. On his person they discovered $840. The negro consented to accompany them, and the two detectives toook him to the patrol box at St. Peter and Baker streets. Sergeant Wiley had his nippers on Morton, and as the patrol wagon came into sight Sergeant Kellam, as is the custom, called the signal operator to see if another call for the patrol wagon had come in.

No sooner had Kellam turned his back than Morton swung around and dealt Wiley a terrific blow on the back of the head knocking him down on his hands and knees. It happened so quickly that both men were taken by surprise. Wiley recovered himself in an instant and, with Kellam, started in pursuit of the fugitive.

They called to him to halt, but he sped on, and the shots they fired at him did not take effect. He was soon lost in the distance, though the patrol wagon, with its large searchlight, followed as far as it could, and rendered every aid possible.

However, $5,810 of the missing money was recovered.

CRIME, DISORDER AND DRUNKENNESS ON NEW YEAR'S DAY.

While the authorities of many cities throughout the country have succeeded in bringing to a great extent the exuberance of certain people who would run riot on Christmas Day, they find that they have jumped out of the frying pan into the fire, as the disorder, drunkenness, crime, accidents, etc. formerly so much in evidence on the 25th of December has its outburst in much greater fury on New Year's Day.

In celebrating the arrival of the New Year in New York more persons were injured and more damage done to property tha non the most hilarious Fourth of July before the safe and sane days. A score of men and women were shot during the celebration three others were seriously stabbed by merry makers, one negro was shot and killed, a policeman was shot twice during the riotous New Year's celebration in San Juan Hill, and the police stations were filled with men and women charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. Self-respecting men and women traveling in the subway, elevated and street cars in the early morning hours were made the marks of insults and threats of violence with impunity by the riotous throng. Many unnecessary alarms of fire were turned in and the general disorder, costing the city a large amount of money.

While the reign of bloodlumism was in order, thousands were drinking and singing in the hotels and restaurants, for the waiters' strike was put off until the servitors had garnered their harvest of tips.

Besides those stabbed and shot, scores of men were badly beaten in reseting insulting remarks made by the bands of hoodlums parading with horns and ticklers or throwing pepper about.

Thousands of dollars worth of plate glass windows were shattered by bullets and buckshot fired by irresponsible revelers. In many cases the injured persons were seated at the windows of their homes, bullets crashing through the glass and hitting them. Some of the wounded are in serious condition.

A trio of drunken rowdies armed with revolvers, invaded Corpus Chrjsti Church, at Newport, Ky., across the river from Cincinnati early yesterday, and by shouting and brandishing their weapons caused a small panic among several hundred worshippers who had assembled for early mass. The congregation started to stampede but they were halted by the reassuring voice of Father Von Meyer, the pastor. The men in the congregation surrounded the ruffians and, after a hard fight, disarmed them.

TO PLACE CONVICTS ON THE CITY FARM.

A plan is about to be crystalized in Richmond whereby persons sentenced to serve short terms in jail may be utilized to the profit of that city by being compelled to work at agricultural pursuits, on the city farm. It is suggested that the plan has proven to be a success in Washington and other places, and it is believed it would be satisfactory in Richmond.

In this connection it might be suggested that Alexandria owns what is known as "the corporation farm," and that regular patrons of the Police Court, who are generally sent to jail for short terms, where they are forced to kill time, would be better off themselves if made to labor while the city would compel them to earn their bread. If they were committed to the workhouse and sent into the fields to dig and aid in producing what they eat, the cost of their maintaniance would be considerably lessened.

TO OPEN NEW STORE.

John M. Reed, manager of Sanders and Stayman, has taken a long lease of the premises at the corner of King and Washington streets which was occupied by the Martha Washington Cafe. It is the intention of Mr. Reed to make some improvements in the appearance of the place and later open a first class store. The nature of the business will be announced later.

FIRM DISSOLVES.

Boy Scouts Visit.

Troops Nos. 19 and 30 of the Boy Scouts of Washington in charge of Scout Master Hugh L. Taylor, hiked from Washington to Alexandria yesterday and paid a visit to troop No. 1 of Alexandria. The boys created considerable interest on the streets and after visiting the places of interest about the city made a camp on North Washington street where they cooked their dinner in approved scout style.

Troop No. 1 of this city will attend the Scout rally to be held in Washington Friday night.

NEW BOOKS ADDED.

The following new books have been added to the Alexandria Library: The Heather Moon, C. N. & A. ALEXANDRIA PROOF.

Should Convince Every Alexandria Reader.

The frank statement or a neighbor telling the merits of a remedy bids you pause and believe. The same endorsements by some stranger far away commands no belief at all. Here's an Alexandria case. An Alexandria citizen testifies. Read and be convinced:

Mrs. G. W. Davis, 107 Prince St., Alexandria, Va., says: "I owe my health to Doan's Kidney Pills. I have used them frequently during the past seven years and they have often brought me relief after everything else had failed. The doctors treated me for a long while and said my case was a severe one. I had undergone tortures from the complaint and often I was worn out. When I had almost given up hope, I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They have strengthened me and corrected the kidney trouble."

WAR'S TERRIBLE DEVASTATION

This photograph of one of the streets of Kirk Kilisseh was taken just after the capture of that city by the Bulgarians, and shows the awful devastation wrought by the bombardment.

THE "SUPERIOR" SEX

By ERNEST WOLLETT.

Miss Belinda, at her summer home, was setting out a bed of vegetables with the help of the man she employs by the day when she can entice him from his old flat-bottomed fishing boat.

"It was real smart of you to raise them there little plants in the city and bring them out here," he said. "You'll have tomatoes and eggplant before any one else. I don't see how you ever come to think of them things. It beats all how some women can plan ahead more'n men folks. Now, that patch of onions and lettuce you put in last fall before you went away has turned out fine, ain't it?"

"I'm glad, Cassius, to hear you speak highly of women's ability," said Miss Belinda. "I think we women will have to get you to work for us this summer."

"Ain't I workin' for you now?" asked Cassius, mystified. "Some o' them fellers that go by to the creamery mornin's before you get down to the garden run me 'bout workin' so much for a woman. But I always say that I don't see why your money ain't as good as anybody's. And I will say this, Miss Belinda, it's a sight surer than some folks' money."

"Thank you, Cassius. "I'm happy to know that you're satisfied and that you believe in women. I hope you'll help women get the ballot this fall.

"Get the ballot? How are the women expectin' to get the ballot?" Cassius laughed.

"They're expecting to get it in this state through the referendum." Miss Belinda paused, but as Cassius did not appear much enlightened she continued: "You see, the question of woman suffrage is to be voted upon next November in Wisconsin."

"I ain't heard nothin' about it." Cassius thrust a little seedling into the ground with masculine roughness that ended its young life. "What do women folks know about politics, anyway?"

"Even you don't appear to be fully informed on all the present issues," declared Miss Belinda, laughing.

"Well, I ain't never been one to believe in women gettin' out o' their place."

"Just what is a woman's place, I'd really like to know."

"Well, I think a woman's place is at home. I don't never want to see my wife gallivantin' round to the polls. Her place is at home."

"That reminds me," said Miss Belinda pleasantly. "I need some one tomorrow to help my maid wash the curtains. Can your wife come as usual?"

"Well, I ain't sure 'bout it. She's scrubbin' the postoffice and hardware store floors and woodwork this week. I does beat all how busy she is. She ain't hardly been home a hull day since the spring house cleanin' begun."

"Oh, then she doesn't stay in her place all the time," Miss Belinda remarked sweetly.

Cassius wiped his hand across his perspiring forehead and left a trail of garden soil on his perplexed brow. "Well, anyway, she ain't mixin' up with man's business," he answered, doggedly.

"Oh, have we a woman postmaster this year, and isn't Mr. Beasley running the hardware store now? Is there a woman doing that? I must be quite behind the times if there are so many changes here."

"Everything's just the same as it always was. Even if you be kind o' laughin' at me, Miss Belinda, you know mighty well that scrubbin' floors ain't men's business."

"No, I know it's not considered man's work. It's a little too strenuous for most of the men in this neighborhood. It would be a rather pitiful sight to see men, whose hands aren't used to holding much except a jackknife or a fishing pole on their knees all day, pushing a scrubbing brush across the floor, wouldn't it?"

Cassius' only reply to this question was a grunt as he rose to bring a pail of water for the plants.

On his return he stood with a rather majestic poise over Miss Belinda's kneeling figure and said: "The polls ain't decent for women. I've said it before, and I say it again, women folks ain't got no business in such a dirty place."

"Where is the voting place in this town?" asked Miss Belinda.

"Well, since the old town hall burned down we've been votin' in the Oakland district school."

"Oh, that's where your daughter teaches. Dear me, you must hate to have Amanda in such a dirty place so much of the time."

Cassius did not deign to reply. He gave Miss Belinda a scornful look and continued his work in his customary leisurely style. But at noon, having announced that he could not come back after dinner, because he had promised his wife to try to catch a fish for supper, he said: "Well, Miss Belinda, I guess there ain't no way you can deny that God made man before he made woman and gave him the first place to the hull of creation."

Miss Belinda laughed. Then as she watched Cassius slouch away she said to herself: "And our destiny is left to the lords of creation!"

Then There's No Row.

"Gracious! That noise across the street sounded like a pistol shot."

"Don't be alarmed. That was Mr. Gribber slamming the door of his residence as he left for town."

"Does he always slam the door so hard?"

"Not every morning. There are some mornings when he and Mrs. Gribber don't meet at the breakfast table."

Young Onions on Toast.

Clean the onions, then tie in bunches and cook in boiling water slightly salted until tender; drain off the water, cut the strings and place six onions on pieces of toasted bread. Trim the green tops neatly. After the toast is placed on the platter pour over just sufficient hot water to slightly moisten. Dissolve a teaspoonful of beef extract in one cupful of hot water, then add it gradually to one tablespoonful of butter melted and mixed with one tablespoonful of flour, as is done for a cream sauce; stir until creamy, adding more hot water if too thick. Some flours thicken more than others. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the onions.

The Grits Ball.

No, you don't dance it.
Neither do you throw it.
Rather it is designed to eat.
The shell is made of aluminum.
The round perforations admit the steam.
One cup of grits or rice is held in it.
The grits ball opens on a hinge just as does a tea ball.
It is handier and looks nicer than an ordinary bag.

Potted Chicken.

A chicken is cut up as for fricassee and to each pound of meat allow two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt (very scant) and a dust of pepper. Mix thoroughly and roll each piece of the meat in the mixture. Pack closely in a large bean pot and cover with boiling water; bake for three hours and a half. Cover after 10 or 15 minutes, but not before it boils.

SULTAN OF MOROCCO A POET

Mulai Hafid Is Recognized in Mohammedan World as a Writer of Ability.

Paris.—Mulai Hafid, the sultan of Morocco, who recently left Fez for Rabat, has a reputation as a poet in the Mohammedan world and is also recognized as a writer on philosophy His best-known poem has recently been translated into Spanish by Senor Ricardo Baetsa.

The sultan starts by confessing his disenchantment with life. Translated literally, this portion of his song reads:

"From the heights to which Fate has borne me, I see naught but human heads servilely bowed. So high am I placed that my hand outstretched could not encounter any other hand, any friendly hand."

Then he reverts to the happy epoch when as a simple camel driver he loved the beautiful Bedouin girl, Aneise, and her alone. Today, surrounded with riches and honors, wearied with pleasures, the sultan sadly meditates upon the irrevocable past and upon his first love.

Then, advancing to more impersonal subjects, the sultan writes:

"Patience! Fate whispers to me. And while expectant that the star of ancient days shall shine again, resplendent, over our heads, I still shall add pearls, more and more pearls to the marvelous regalia of Islam; and may the keen edge of the sword of vengeance open to us at the propitious hour the road to the final triumph! Night sings my songs in secret today; but tomorrow they shall be intoned in the broad light, freely, gloriously!"

The inference is taken to be that he hopes one day, not distant, to shake off the yoke, or the protectorate of the foreigner, and to reconquer his independence as the chief of the Moors.

FIGHT "ARSON TRUST" GANG

Outlaws Believed to Have Caused the Loss of Million in the Last Five Years.

New York.—That the death knell of the "arson trust," a curious organization of New York's underworld, will soon be sounded is the belief of the fire department here as the result of arrests which it is expected will shortly be made after half a decade of endeavor to bring within the clutches of the law the members of an organization which has capitalized the building of incendiary fires.

According to the fire marshal, this gang in the conduct of its ingenious pursuit has caused the loss of more than $1,000,000 in the last five years through small fires.

Although its existence has long been known, the make-up of the organization is apparently as uncertain and changeable as that of the "Black Hand." It is sometimes called the "firebug syndicate," and is said to consist of a number of quick-witted and rather ingenious scoundrels whose usual plan of campaign is to make bargains with persons willing to defraud insurance companies by which the firebug receives a stated sum, ranging from $25 to $100, for starting a blaze in small apartments with the connivance of those who live there, who have previously insured their petty belongings for as large sums as they can get.

PROFESSOR FLEES FROM BEES

Lodged Beneath His Undershirt Make Him Do an Outdoor Marathon.

San Rafael, Cal.—Bees, not of the presidential kind, turned Dr. W. H. Dudley, one of the town's most dignified citizens, into an Olympic athlete to the great astonishment of his neighbors.

Dr. Dudley had come home from a tour of duty and thought to refresh himself at a shower bath. So he spread his underclothing on the lawn to bleach in the sun and retired to the shower. Later he gathered up the garments, unaware that adventurous bees had meantime crawled inside their folds.

It was then the doctors was seen to leap through his front door and make circles around the house with Marathon speed while divesting himself of his shirt in total defiance of the municipal ordinance regulating the proprieties.

But he outran the bees.

FINDS CRYING BABY IN GRIP

Man In New York Unaware of Contents Until Infant Lets Out Howl.

New York.—A passer-by found a baby in a large grip at the corner of 42nd street and Lexington avenue shortly before daybreak. The infant, a week-old boy, was crying lustily.

John McAree, a builder, of Corona, L. I., happened to pass the corner, and the sight of the traveling bag and the nearness of the Grand Central station suggested that some traveler in his hurry for a train had set it down and forgotten it. Suddenly the infant began to make itself heard and McAree opened the grip and found the child.

"Old Bill" Minor Loose Again.

Milledgeville, Ga.—For the second time in the last few months "Old Bill" Minor, the aged outlaw, serving a term for train robbery, has escaped from the state convict farm. He filed his shackles and left with a fellow prisoner.

Because of the tragedy and near-tragedy which occurred during the farewell celebration to 1912 in which John Lamanna of Baltimore was killed and two other persons—Zuios Kouge, and Miss Mary Danforth, were wounded through reckless pistol firing, Marshal Farnan yesterday was strong in his denunciation of the demonstration. The Marshal would put a stop to the future celebrations in which pistols play such an important part.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Congress reconvened at noon today, following the Christmas recess. It was the lap of the Sixty-second Congress. Fifty-three working days remain in the present session, closing March 4 with the passage of the Taft administration and the inauguration of Governor Wilson. Congress will be in continuous session until that time, without adjournment even for Washington's birthday.

Senate galleries were crowded early today in anticipation of the "swan song" of Senator Bailey, of Texas, in his attack upon the iniative and referendum. Bailey was expected to speak all day upon his resolution declaring the "new fangled" legislative scheme inimical to this government.

Consideration of the Indian Appropriation bill was continued in the House.

Opportunity for housewives to buy real "country" butter, eggs, and poultry direct from farmers is the cheif function of the new parcel post system, according to Rep. Lewis, of Md., co-author of the new law.

"The housewife in a viliage or town from which a rural route starts can make practical use of the parcel post," said Lewis. "She can order direct from the producer in her zone. Suppose she needs two pounds of butter, two dozen eggs, two pounds of sausauge and a chicken. She can order them from some farmer and have them delivered to her kitchen for 15 cents. And she can get them at one-half of the cost of buying from retailers."

Informal and secret conferences were held here today by House leaders, regarding the proposed arrest of William Rockefeller at New York to force his appearance before the money trust committee. Introduction of a resolution to authorize Rockefeller's arrest was seriously considered. Chairman Pujo, of the money trust committee, and Jerry South, clerk of the House, arrived here simultaneously today. They were closeted together over an hour, discussing the unavailing efforts by South and Sergeant-at-arms Riddell to serve the money trust committee's subpoena on Rockefeller. Two other powerful committees of the House, the rules and judiciary committees, were brought into the situation.
